

product, as food is, then you can consume, it simply loses its value. We go all the way down to 13 cents a bushel in 1932. Thirteen cents a bushel for corn. For wheat, 27 cents a bushel. Now I submit to you that is a free market system. That is what we are asking for and I urge you to support this resolution to have our Congressional representatives hold hearings in the State of Nebraska to see what effect the free market system concept, up to this point, is having upon the State of Nebraska, the farmers within the State of Nebraska and one important point will be known by then and that will be the estimated close to actual cost of the new farm program. It has been estimated so far that the cost of that program is going to increase by 50 percent. It might go as high as $30 billion in one year, maybe a little bit more. Now I submit to you we are going to be spending more money and getting fewer results. At this point and time and where I propose and am going to suggest privately to the Congressional representatives that we hold a hearing, it would be in the summer before we plant our wheat, so we will be able to embark upon the new crop year with a little bit of evaluation of the policies and the resulting effects and cost of that policy. Mr. President, I urge the adoption of the resolution. Thank you.
